About   Me

Welcome! I'm Diyo Albani from X-PPLG 2. As a student deeply immersed in Software Engineering, I am passionate about transforming every idea into functional and user-friendly digital solutions. I firmly believe that technology holds immense power to make life better and solve various complex problems around us.

Beyond my technical skills in coding and design, I am also equipped with strong soft skills such as effective communication, problem-solving, and boundless creativity. This foundation is further strengthened by my experience in Paskibra and my hobby of silat. Both activities have instilled in me deep values of focus, mental resilience, high discipline, and an unwavering leadership spirit. I bring this drive to every challenge, both in the world of technology and in every aspect of life.
